Dispatches tell us that the Turks carried off all the girls from the American girls' college at Smyrna recently, following their victory over the Greek forces. If this be true, we fancy the United States will not tamely submit to such an insult. There never was a better time than the present to put a stop to such outrages for ever.

Thanksgiving Day will be on November 22nd this year. This is Monday of the week containing Armistice Day, which is Saturday, November 11th.

The most vital question in Canada today is immigration. All we need is the people to make this the greatest country on earth. It's the great sign to see a great movement along this line getting under way.

Hon. W. S. Fielding, speaking at Geneva, before the armistice committee, denounced the submarine and said that it should be abolished. That settles it. Abolish the submarine, by all means.

President E. W. Beatty of the C. P. R. is en route to the Pacific coast, looking after the interests of his company. He ought to come to Red Deer and take a look around. Surely he will not allow the C.N.R. to steal his big thunder here.

MR. WOOD OBJECTS

Montreal Gazette:

Mr. H. W. Wood, president of the United Farmers of Alberta, and, perhaps, the most influential personality in the western agrarian movement, has contributed an article to the official organ of the association in which he seeks to check the movement for a union of Liberal and Farmer groups in parliament. The view which he holds is indicated in the title of his contribution, "We Turn Forward or Turn Back" and the case which he puts forward is, from his point of view, a plausible one. He argues that men elected by the farmers upon the agrarian platform have the right to change their convictions and their party allegiance, but not the right, having so changed, to retain the seats for constituents which they no longer represent; they should, he says, resign. That such members accepted nomination and election in good faith, he is willing to concede, and that, "after getting in different environments and under a different influence, they changed their minds," he is also willing to assume. Their course might be, he adds, perfectly right and honorable, but it would not be either right or fair of them to "continue to hold offices after they had withdrawn from their electors and are representing no one but themselves."

The really significant thing about his protest is the importance which he attaches to the union movement. There can be no doubt that he regards it as something that is likely to succeed, and if his fears are justified it is a reasonable inference that the negotiations which were opened immediately after the session have made some progress. Mr. Wood is in a position to know a great deal of what is taking place in the councils of the Progressives, and he is not the sort of man who would, without good reason, admit the possibility of his own party's disruption. There is a ring of genuine disappointment in his complaint that, "if this is true, then bitter indeed are the first fruits of the young tree of democracy. How badly have we chosen, and how haphazardly the task before us." These are not the words of a man who is sure of his party's strength and solidarity. There can be no question that Mr. Wood regards a Liberal-Progressive merger as something more than a possibility.

WHOLESALE EXECUTIONS

Others have not had the chance to choose, according to dispatches from Greek sources, which tell of horrible tortures and mutilations and wholesale executions. Large numbers of Greek soldiers have been decapitated, they say and others forced into sacks and thrown into the sea. Allegations of having severed in the Greek army bring death to the Armenians and women and children are being put to the sword.

Estimates of the number killed vary greatly, and the latest Athens dispatch quotes a relief worker at declaring that up to Thursday morning there had been 120,000 victims. It is thought this figure may include the wounded also, as previous reports placed the number of dead at from 1,000 to 2,000.

Landward from the city it is reported that all the villages are burning and that the whole country side has been devastated.

British Fleet on Guard

Meanwhile the Turkish forces in the north have continued their advance, and almost simultaneously with the news of their capture of Panderma, off the Sea of Marmora, comes the announcement that the British fleet in the Dardanelles has been ordered to prevent any attempt to cross the straits, and that no ships shall be allowed to pass through the straits.

While the Turks do not possess a navy, they control a swarm of light vessels, and have a call upon some larger ships in the Black Sea.

Russians May Aid Turks

The Turks are not without support in their European ambitions. The Russo-Anglo treaty is understood to bind the Russians to co-operate with Mustafa Kemal Pasha in the capture of the Dardanelles in return for the freedom of the Black Sea, and the Moscow government is reported to have prepared for action all its forces in the Caucasian republic and to be holding its Black Sea fleet in readiness.

Russians, born in 1901, hitherto exempt from service, have been called to the colors.

The British government is especially concerned over the neutrality of Constantinople and the straits, and it is reported that the French and Italian troops are also under orders to increase their vigilance.

Only the Moslem quarter has escaped.

Up to Saturday evening the British foreign office had received no news of loss of life among British subjects.

A sharp earthquake occurred at Vigo, Spain, Friday evening, causing the collapse of a number of small cottages in the village of Vomeira.

BRITISH PLEA FOR MERCY TO REFUGEES IS IGNORED

Constantinople, Sept. 16.—Reports were current here yesterday that the allied warships were bombarding Smyrna, but investigation proved that the cannonading was the work of the Kemalist coast batteries, which were attacking the remainder of the Greek forces evacuating the Chios peninsula.

The British authorities appealed to the Turkish officers to cease firing, as the retreating troops were no longer combatants but helpless refugees, and the Turkish action, they declared, was in violation of the dictates of humanity and international law.

The Komalists, however, ignored the British plea for mercy, and the Greek vessels retired under heavy fire, with many wounded.

British headquarters announce that Field Marshal Viscount French, Earl of Ypres, is expected to arrive here shortly.

London, Sept. 17.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Times says that Mustafa Kemal Pasha informed Sir Harry Lamb at the Smyrna conference that he considered the Ankara government in a state of war with Great Britain, but he afterwards modified this statement in his official capacity, defining the relations "as not hostile, but as suspended."

London, Sept. 17.—With British troops entrenching at strategic points on the Dardanelles, French and Italian battalions rushing to join them, and from far New Zealand where that an Anatolian contingent will be dispatched to the scene of their heroic sacrifices in the late war to assist in dealing with the Turkish Nationalists, there has been a swift carrying into effect of the allied pronouncements regarding a line of demarcation to provide the freedom of the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus.

The British troops are supported by heavy artillery and backed by the fleet, and officials here are confident that the combined land and sea forces which are determined to already be prepared for any eventuality, can hold Constantinople against all odds.

The Turkish bombardment of the last departing Greek transports from the Chios peninsula, despite the British appeal for mercy on which the ground that the Greeks were helpless and no longer combatants, Mustafa Kemal Pasha is now supreme over all Anatolia, but as yet has made no move toward Constantinople, and the warships which the allies have voiced throughout Europe and Near East may have served their purpose.

Smyrna, which last month was the centre of Greek rule, is a ruin, with fire raging for three days and continuing, though diminishing in violence. Only the Moslem quarter has escaped.

STYLE HEADQUARTERS where Society Brand Clothes are sold

MADE IN CANADA

There's a new style note

You will see the new style note this fall wherever the best-dressed people gather—in homes or at clubs, at play or at work. The new style is a welcome change to most men. It's a change from the high-waisted, pinched-in and skirted effects to ample-chested, full coats that hang almost straight from the shoulders. Vents will be shorter, noticeably shorter, in fall suits.

Society Brand Suits for fall embody correctly these style changes. The highest priced and proudest custom tailor in town is cutting his fall suits along these lines.

We have the style in Society Brand Suits. Also the fabrics and the fine tailoring. A call at our store is like visiting an exhibit of advanced style.

DISSOLUTION OF MARRIAGE RULED TO BE ABSOLUTE

Montreal, Sept. 13.—Dissolution of a Roman Catholic marriage by a federal divorce is absolute and deprives both parties to the marriage to any claim upon each other. Mr. Justice Macdonald decided here in the superior court yesterday. The parties to the marriage were Bernadette Desnoyers and William David, who were divorced in 1920. Subsequently the former Mrs. David sought a separation allowance.

Wallace T. Campbell, vice-president of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Ltd., stated definitely Saturday morning that the Canadian company would not close down, following the closing of the Detroit factories.

Samples submitted to the Dominion government mining officials show that imported Welsh coal has practically 10 percent less ash and 10 percent more carbon than Pennsylvania anthracite, which is used extensively in Canada. This figure out 15 to 17 percent more heating properties.

Is the world to see the birth of a new negro republic? It will if Marcus Garvey, the celebrated American colored President of the Universal Negro Improvement Association, and his colleagues, have their wish at Lilberts, Sask. Mrs. Garvey, recently, at a meeting of the League of Nations for a slice of Africa on which to start an independent negro nation. The U.N.I.A., which is, of course, composed exclusively of colored men, doubtless has its eyes on what was formerly German East Africa, and which is the only really desirable southern portion of the Dark Continent where the League has only authority for Britain holds only a mandate for the possession of that territory. The sweltering jungles filled with pestilence, serpents and wild animals which cover the lowlands of "German East" are certainly impossible places for Europeans, who quickly fall victims to most malarial and loathsome black water fever, but the mountain highlands are healthy and also extremely fertile. An industrious and intelligent negro population might seemingly work wonders in "German East."

MADAM SLOAT

PRATT JUNCTION, N.B., Jan. 22nd, 1920

"For many years, I was a great sufferer from Indigestion, Constipation and Rheumatism. My stomach was weak and gave me constant distress, while Rheumatism in my joints made me almost a cripple. I was treated by two different doctors but their medicine did me no good.

Then I tried "Fruit-a-lives" and at once that fruit medicine helped me. Soon the Constipation and Indigestion were relieved and the Rheumatism entirely disappeared. For twelve years now, my health has been first class, and I attribute it to the use of "Fruit-a-lives" which I take regularly."

IMMIGRATION IS VITAL QUESTION DECLARES BEATTY

Both People and Capital Are Required in Canada at the Present Time

Winnipeg, Sept. 15.—Declaring that the most vital question with which Canada has to deal at present is that of immigration, both people and capital, Mr. President Beatty, of the Canadian Pacific railway, last night discussed both these questions. He said that he could see no reason why there should be a railway strike in this country, and asserted that from a business point of view, the situation in the United States was now clearing up.

Mr. Beatty is on his annual trip through the west, and going into details on the question of immigration.

"The most encouraging indication at the present time would appear to be the general opinion taken, probably the most vital question to deal, namely, that of increased immigration to Canada. For the best part of a year, the press has dealt aggressively with this subject of immigration, and to this we can, I think, in a measure attribute the recent declarations made on behalf of the government that a strong and vigorous immigration policy will shortly be put into operation. The principle of select immigration is now admitted and there only remains the adoption of the methods whereby these policies can be given the greatest possible effect.

"Almost equally important is the immigration of capital, and our energies should be directed to exploiting the advantages and wealth of this country in those quarters where capital is available and whose holders believe that under Canada's laws and constitutional system their investments will be given the encouragement and the protection which they deserve. The wealth of this country lies in the ground, and must be taken out of it by the joint labor of money and men, and from this development must follow wider markets and industrial expansion, which we have as much right to expect as the United States at the close of the civil war, when their population was over three times that of Canada."

EVERGREEN U.F.A.

A regular meeting of the Evergreen U.F.A. Local was held on September 14 at 4 p.m., and was called to order by the chairman. At the conclusion of the regular business, the members discussed the $250 indemnity. It was a surprise to the members, after the government rescinded economy to the farmers and then go and vote themselves $250 for one week's work. It doesn't look like economy to us. It is about time that our representatives started to study economy themselves. The farmer has got to economize so much already that he can't even buy himself a pair of overalls. We had hoped that the farmers, who are now showing the rank and file a better example than what they did. That is the way to build up a strong farmers party.

BUSINESS OPTIMISM
AND NOT PESSIMISM
IS STRONGLY URGED

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—"Optimism in business, rather than pessimism in contemplating the future, should now be regarded seriously as an important factor necessary to the return of the commercial world to normalcy," so writes F. C. T. O'Hara, deputy minister of trade and commerce, in the annual report, of the board of trade and commerce department.

Mr. O'Hara adds: "Especially should the so-called 'business youth' among the nations, to whom at this time and moment and a war debt are about the only material results of the war. At no time have we experienced the privations of any country in Europe. The general chaos that has prevailed so long throughout the world has been fed by the pessimist. Today no people in the world can regard the future with a greater pride than we. Industrial activity is returning slowly but steadily. We are now on the up-grade."

NEGROES IN U.S.A. WANT REPUBLIC

To Ask League of Nations for Slice of Africa.

(Mail and Empire)

Is the world to see the birth of a new negro republic? It will if Marcus Garvey, the celebrated American colored President of the Universal Negro Improvement Association, and his colleagues, have their wish at Lilberts, Sask. Mrs. Garvey, recently, at a meeting of the League of Nations for a slice of Africa on which to start an independent negro nation. An industrious and intelligent negro population might seemingly work wonders in "German East."

Liberia, the Black Republic

But in view of the experiences of Haiti and Liberia, will the League feel disposed to grant request for another colored man's state, even in the continent which is the cradle of his race? Haiti, rich West Indian island, ruled these many years by colored administrators and at present under the aegis of the United States, has been notoriously unfortunate as a republic. Liberia, too, the only section of Africa under the recognized authority of a negro government, has not made the progress which her wonderfully fertile climate and abundant supply of raw materials would seem to warrant.

Some 48,000 square miles in area, Liberia, stretching for 400 miles along the west coast of Africa and reaching inland for some 150 miles, has a total surface comparable to that of the Ontario Peninsula's southern portion from Cornwall to Windsor and north to Muskoka. At the end of the first year, when the tide was rising in favor of the abolition of slavery and the return of the colored man to the land of his fathers, the United States suggested once or twice as a suitable home for him. But not until 1821 when the American Colonization Society sent over the first detachment of freed slaves, whose liberty it was difficult to preserve in a still slave-holding United States, was Liberia actually founded.

U.S. Negroes Not Keen on Africa
From that day to the present, negroes, whose liberty it was difficult to preserve in a still slave-holding United States, was Liberia actually founded.

From that day to the present, negroes, whose liberty it was difficult to preserve in a still slave-holding United States, was Liberia actually founded. The modern, emancipated American negro makes no secret of his dislike of the life in the United States and since 1860, only two or three thousand have crossed the Atlantic in small numbers to settle on the Liberian coast. The great majority of the negroes in the early part of the 19th century. The great majority of the negroes in the early part of the 19th century.

Country in Bad Way
Jehudi Ashmun, a white American, was the first founder of the colony between 1820 and 1828, but the name "Liberia" literally "Freedom," was invented by Rev. R. R. Gurley, in 1824. In 1847 the American colored colonists declared their country an independent republic, and its status in this capacity was recognized by most of the great powers, with the exception of the United States. Bonyard disputes with the adjoining British colony of Sierra Leone and the French possessions caused a re-examination of Liberian frontiers in 1903 and later, and resulted in the sending by President Roosevelt, in 1909, of a commission to investigate conditions in the negro republic. Things were found to be in a bad way administratively, and the United States began negotiations for adjustment of the Liberian national debt, and put U.S. officials in the Liberian customs. In 1910 the American government, acting in general agreement with Great Britain, France and Italy, many, took charge of finances, military organization, agriculture and boundary questions, and a loan of $200,000 was arranged.

Statesmen, Soldiers, Judges Colored

With constitution and government so that of the United States, Liberia is governed by a president elected for four years and assisted by a ministry and a senate of eight members elected for four years, and a house of representatives of fifteen members elected for four years. An enlisted frontier force of 600 men under native officers in the use of arms and the control of the customs is still in the hands of a general receiver sent by the United States Government. Liberia maintains four consular offices in Great Britain, with whom is the bulk of her trade, and total imports in 1920 only came to $17,000,000 and exports to $200,000,000. Perhaps the oldest established negro republic has yet produced in Arthur Barclay, a pure-blooded negro and native of Barbados. Barclay received his education in Liberia and at present occupying the post of Secretary of State and of the Interior, was President until C. B. D. King succeeded him in that office in 1920. He was elected to the office during the Great War and is a member of the League of Nations.

Agriculture Neglected

Situated in the heart of the tropics, endowed with soil and an abundant rainfall, Liberia's agricultural possibilities are enormous, but farming is neglected. The only crop in the slightly explored hinterland, but mining, too, has not been developed. U.S. officials in the Liberian customs. In 1910 the American government, acting in general agreement with Great Britain, France and Italy, many, took charge of finances, military organization, agriculture and boundary questions, and a loan of $200,000 was arranged.

BIBLE ADDRESS AT ST. LUKE'S

The Revd Arthur Murphy's second address was delivered on Thursday at 8 p.m. in the church.

An audience slightly larger than that of a recent week was present, and it is felt that the interest in this series of lectures is steadily growing. As these addresses are advertised to begin at 8 o'clock, and as the lecturer means to commence punctually at that hour, some persons have respectfully requested to be in their seats not later than the scheduled hour.

The subject of Thursday's lecture was the Creation to Seth, or the first four chapters of the book of Genesis. In order to fix in the mind the subject matter contained in the several chapters of the Bible, Mr. Murphy has found it an excellent plan to give such a name, e.g., Genesis: Chap. I, the Creation; Chap. II, the Fall; Chap. III, the Fall; Chap. IV, Cain and Abel, etc. Speaking of the Holy Trinity, the lecturer showed how that none of the three Persons was by Himself God in the fullest sense, but that the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost with the Father and the Son was God. Further, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost of the 3 Persons to manifest, the Father the sustainer and upholder, the Son the redeemer and savior, and the Holy Ghost the comforter and sympathetic helper, or, in other words, the 3 Persons, who are a beautiful expression) the mother-part of God, which is maintained, many times in the N. T. When the lecturer mentioned, the 3rd Person in the Trinity is the responsible agent, always made the world, the only satisfactory reply is to be found in Psalm 110:7 and St. John 4:18; 1 St. John 4:16; revealing God's exceeding love for others. His heart-burning love.

Speaking of St. John III:16, the lecturer re-considered the little word "so"—"God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son." "So" is a very strong word, yet fraught with an intensity of meaning, it was comparable to placing Homer's Odysseus at the helm of a small boat. Mr. Murphy showed that Genesis 1:1 was complete in itself, and that between the first two verses of Genesis, a great gap existed, perhaps embracing a period of a million, or more years, which was possibly a geological age. Referring to Satan, the Culminator, it was pointed out that he was the first murderer, who, having spoiled a former world, under the guise of a serpent made the world, the only satisfactory reply is to be found in Psalm 110:7 and St. John 4:18; 1 St. John 4:16; revealing God's exceeding love for others. His heart-burning love.

Adam, being a representative character of the race, by sin brought the curse upon all his posterity, his successors, but Jesus Christ, also a representative character, gave to mankind, by grace, the gift of life and light.

Immediately after the Fall was given Adam a promise of a Saviour, St. John III:15. In conclusion it was stressed that the two essentials to put every man right with God were repentance and faith, and to bring this very near to his listeners, the lecturer instanced two men, one a Christian, the other unregenerate, going down. In turn, the student of a crucifixion, and something went wrong, a fuse became ignited and there was imminent danger of an awful explosion.

It was the unregenerate miner's turn to go down, but the other man, fully cognizant of the danger, volunteered to go instead, saying he was ready to die whereas the other was not. He went down, and in a minute the mining report of the explosion rent the air, and when the smoke had cleared sufficiently, the unregenerate man sorrowfully found on going down the scarcely recognizable remains of the other.

From being an unbeliever, from that hour he became a believer, and instead of a fuse, the other man went, so tremendous an influence had the wonderful act of self-sacrifice in Jesus Christ. The unregenerate man sorrowfully found on going down the scarcely recognizable remains of the other.

The next address will be delivered on Friday at 8 p.m. sharp. Everyone is earnestly invited to attend.

TRADE BALANCE FAVORABLE

TO CANADA AGAIN

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—The outstanding feature of the annual trade statistics for the fiscal year, 1922, according to the annual report of the department of trade and commerce, was no doubt the conversion of an adverse trade balance in 1921 to a favorable balance. During the year ended March 31, 1922, the trade balance was favorable to Canada, amounting to $4,192,977, compared with an unfavorable balance for the same period in 1921 of $39,760,762; and for the pre-war year, 1914, of $13,763,774. From 1910 to 1920 Canada's exports exceeded her imports each year by a very large amount, the principal cause of abnormal conditions which existed during the war period and the reconstruction period. Prior to 1915, the trade balance was unfavorable to Canada for a number of years.

FARMERS MAY BE PROTECTED

Premier Dunning Issues Warning to Creditors Not to Use Courts

Regina, September 18.—A warning that the government may have to face the question of exercising its powers to declare a moratorium in Saskatchewan was uttered by Premier Dunning today.

"The government's decision, he said, would be guided by two factors: The continuance or otherwise of the policy of piling up expenses against debtors by the use of court proceedings for the enforcement of collections; and the price of wheat.

Mr. Dunning's pronouncement was made towards the close of an all-day conference of creditor agencies at the parliament buildings, called by the government to consider ways and means of preventing the necessity of resorting to such drastic measures.

Immediately after their threshold, thus forcing the price down below the cost of production.

The conference did not crystallize its sentiments with respect to moratorium legislation by the passage of any resolution. A resolution designed to express the opinion of the meeting that such legislation would not be in the interests of the province and its people was offered by H. W. Givins, former president of the Saskatchewan Land Mortgage association, was subsequently withdrawn, when it was found that it was not likely to receive the unanimous support of the gathering.

Groups Represented

With the exception of the banks, practically all the large creditor groups were represented, including the loan companies, insurance companies, lumber companies, retail merchants, wholesalers, the rural municipalities, the small business association, the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' association, the Saskatchewan Stock Growers' association, the Saskatchewan Farmers' association, the Saskatchewan Elevator company and boards of trade. Many of the members of the legislature were also present, as well as members of the government.

Adding to Burden

Figures were submitted to show that it would be impossible for the farmers to liquidate an accumulated indebtedness of several years standing on the proceeds of a crop, and evidence was submitted that some creditors were attempting to enforce collections of large arrears by expensive legal proceedings, only adding to the burden which debtors are carrying.

The conference was devoted to endeavor to put a stop to this by incalculating a spirit of cooperation between the various creditor classes, and various suggestions were offered as to how this might be brought about. These suggestions principally hinged around the extension of powers to the debt adjustment commission, with the object of forcing a refractory creditor to agree to a fair distribution of the farmer's surplus.

Mr. Dunning stated that in the connection the province had no compulsory powers. "So as an act of authority is concerned," he said, "there is no half-way house. It is either moratorium or no moratorium."

Co-operate on Adjustment

Practically all the interests represented, however, agreed that they were prepared to cooperate with the debt adjustment commission in the distribution of assets in such cases as might be brought to him for adjustment.

With reference to the absence of the banks from the conference, Mr. Dunning explained they had not been invited on account of the difficulty of securing representatives of the banks, the necessary powers to speak authoritatively for these institutions. He expressed the opinion, however, that his recent proposal for a conference of bankers to be held under federal auspices had had the effect of bringing to the banks a better realization of the position in the province and a consequent modification in their attitude towards their debtors.

Advisory Committee

Another suggestion advanced involved the formation of local committees to act in an advisory capacity to farmers in financial difficulties and their creditors, and in reply to this suggestion, Mr. Dunning, while stating that the government would encourage and welcome the formation of such committees, said that in the past they had not always been a success due to the fact that the personnel of such committees had of necessity been constituted of farmers' creditors who were themselves debtors to other interests.

An announcement that was received with pleasure by the government was a statement by loan company representatives that the loan companies would be prepared to assist the farmer in holding his grain by accepting storage tickets in lieu of cash.

With Premier Dunning in the chair, the conference started at 11 o'clock in the morning, and with an adjournment of about an hour and a half for lunch, adjourned at 6:30 p.m.

SYLVAN LAKE SCHOOL FAIR

The officers and directors of the Sylvan Lake School Fair Association were amply rewarded for their work of organization of the past six months by a very successful fair, held at Sylvan Lake on Wednesday, September 18. This School Fair, which was the first of its kind in this section of the province, proved to be one of the best in Central Alberta. Nine schools took part and the exhibits brought in by those schools proved that the exhibitors could easily compete with any children of their age in the west. Of these nine schools, Sylvan Lake and Swain Lake had the most exhibits, each took part, only two previous experience in preparing exhibits for a School Fair. Consequently the two schools had an advantage over the other schools, the children from whom were exhibiting work for the first time.

The exhibits, which were the work of boys and girls between the ages of 6 and 16 years, were surprising both in quality and amount. The total number of exhibits from the nine schools was 1,468. The vegetables, grown and raised from seeds given them by the school, from the nine schools, made a splendid showing. Had there been open competition among all the schools in the vegetable class, it would have been very difficult for the judges to decide upon the boys or girls to whom the awards should be given. The system followed was very simple. The exhibitors of vegetables competed with the other boys and girls of their school only. A list of prizes was given each school for recognition.

There was open competition in all other classes. The number of exhibits from the five schools was very encouraging for the first year, and the association took forward to having a much greater number for the next year. The exhibits in these classes included boys and girls, as well as grown-ups. The exhibits in these classes on the part of a boy or girl can affect the training of dumb animals. A number of exhibits in this class showed lack of attendance and training, and consequently could not win a prize.

The exhibits of boys were very good considering the absence of instruction in the last year and the early start of the season. A small number of exhibits showed a need of care by the exhibitors in their knowledge of the rules. Some of these exhibits showed that boys and girls did not follow the directions given in the fair circular, which said that the straw must be long, clean and well-splined and cut straight across the ends, and that the sheaf must be three inches in diameter at the base of the sheaf. That all this should be done exactly cannot be expected, however, from children who have had little or no experience in preparing exhibits for a fair. No doubt the experience which they have had this year will result in better prepared exhibits for the future fair.

There were wonderful exhibits in fancy work and sewing also in cooking and canning, which told those who viewed the exhibits that all knowledge comes from books and that the children who took part in this fair go from rural schools, they are not backward in their knowledge of domestic science and household economy.

The exhibition of school work, which was much larger than the other classes, was splendid. These exhibits were, for the most part, the result of care and study by the exhibitors. It showed what work they could perform if they really wanted to. In the classes of school work, also, boys and girls frequently forgot to follow closely the directions given in the School Fair circular. It is the duty of every boy and girl who intends bringing an exhibit to the fair, to become familiar with the information in this circular and make certain that he does not exhibit something that is not asked for. Every exhibitor has a knowledge of the objects of the School Fair, as defined in the circular, but in addition to these let every boy and girl practice punctuality. See that you have your exhibits at the place of exhibition at the appointed time. Also let all your exhibits be absolutely your own work and what is asked for in the fair circular. Boys and girls must remember that, no matter how small a fair is, or how small the number of exhibits are, if the exhibits are the results of honest work and attention, and every exhibitor does his part on the square, that fair is a great success. If not, that fair is a great failure in the real sense of the word.

The schools which took part in this fair, with their number of exhibitors and the number of exhibits, are:

SAILORS STARVE TO SAVE BARE

A tale of the sea, a becalmed ship, a starving crew and a mother with a newborn babe, to preserve whose life everyone else sacrificed rations, thrills of the waterfront, San Francisco, on August 21 upon the arrival of the motorship Anne Johnston, with news of the San Francisco schooner, William H. Smith. The schooner was calmed in the Pacific for 43 days, and was discovered on August 14, when her signal of distress was replied to, and she was provided with supplies. A ghastly condition was found aboard the schooner. The crew of seven men had been 11 days almost without food, except the cups with which the schooner was loaded. They were unable to hoist the emergency rations over the ship's side. In the cabin, Mrs. Nola H. Jensen, wife of the master, was attempting to nurse her baby. The crew of the becalmed vessel, it is said, was beginning to show signs of insanity when rescued. For 116 days no word had been heard from the unfortunate vessel and she had been given up for lost.

to Holders of Five Year

5 per cent Canada's Victory Bonds

Issued in 1917 and Maturing 1st December, 1922.

CONVERSION PROPOSALS

THE MINISTER OF FINANCE offers to holders of these bonds who desire to continue their investment in Dominion of Canada securities the privilege of exchanging the maturing bonds for new bonds bearing 5 1/2 per cent interest, payable half yearly, of either of the following classes:—

- (A) Five year bonds, dated 1st November, 1922, to mature 1st November, 1927.
- (B) Ten year bonds, dated 1st November, 1922, to mature 1st November, 1932.

While the maturing bonds will carry interest to 1st December, 1922, the new bonds will commence to earn interest from 1st November, 1922, GIVING A BONUS OF A FULL MONTH'S INTEREST TO THOSE AVAILING THEMSELVES OF THE CONVERSION PRIVILEGE.

This offer is made to holders of the maturing bonds and is not open to other investors. The bonds to be issued under this proposal will be substantially of the same character as those which are maturing, except that the exemption from taxation does not apply to the new issue.

Holders of the maturing bonds who wish to avail themselves of this conversion privilege should take their bonds AS EARLY AS POSSIBLE, BUT NOT LATER THAN SEPTEMBER 30th, to a Branch of any Chartered Bank in Canada and receive in exchange an official receipt for the bonds surrendered, containing an undertaking to deliver the corresponding bonds of the new issue.

Holders of maturing fully registered bonds, interest payable by cheque from Ottawa, will receive their December 1 interest cheque as usual. Holders of coupon bonds will detach and retain the last unmaturing coupon before surrendering the bond itself for conversion purposes.

The surrendered bonds will be forwarded by banks to the Minister of Finance at Ottawa, where they will be exchanged for bonds of the new issue, in fully registered, or coupon registered or coupon bearer form carrying interest payable 1st May and 1st November of each year of the duration of the loan, the first interest payment accruing and payable 1st May, 1923. Bonds of the new issue will be sent to the banks for delivery immediately after the receipt of the surrendered bonds.

The bonds of the maturing issue which are not converted under this proposal will be paid off in cash on the 1st December, 1922.

W. S. FIELDING,
Minister of Finance.

Dated at Ottawa, 8th August, 1922.
